Bay appoints new BWSD member

JOANNA OSBOURN

BY GEOFF BELCHER
GENERAL MANAGER

The Bay-Waveland School District Board of Trustees has a brand new member – the Bay St. Louis City Council last week ratified Mayor Mike Favre’s recommendation to appoint Joanna Osbourn.

“Joanna is more than qualified to represent our community, and we look forward to her making a positive contribution on the school board team,” Favre said.

“I’m honored and excited to contribute to the enhancement and continued success of the Bay-Waveland School District,” Osbourn said.

Osbourn was appointed to replace former board member Ann Lathrop, who resigned late last year after moving out of the district in order to care for a family member.

Osbourn is the director of Branch Operations for Keesler Federal Credit Union. She previously worked as the manager of the Waveland Keesler branch from 2008-2017; and worked as a budget clerk for the Department of the Navy at Stennis Space Center before that. She graduated from the University of Southern Mississippi in 2008 with a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration.

She has also been active in the local community, working with the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, Hancock Young Professionals, Coast Young Professionals and the Hancock County Leadership program.

Old Town Bay St. Louis is losing not one, but two beloved long-time businesses due to increased rent – Serious Bread and Bay Books.

Serious Bread owner Vivian Jensen announced in mid-February that the store would close its doors for good at the end of March due to the rent increase, then amended a few days ago that March 11 would be the business’s last day.

West Hancock Beta Club donates to Hancock County Food Pantry

BY GEOFF BELCHER
GENERAL MANAGER

Students from the West Hancock Elementary School fifth-grade Beta Club last week donated more than a thousand cans of food to the Hancock County Food Pantry.

“The students knew after Christmas that the food pantries got wiped out, so they wanted to help them re-stock,” West Hancock Beta Club teacher Heather Sowers said.

She and fellow instructor Keri Bozant helped the students unload 1,153 cans of food.

Hancock Food Pantry volunteer Kevin Reynolds thanked members the students for their hard work and generosity.

“Thank you, thank you, thank you,” Reynolds said. “I hope you know how much this helps.

He said the pantry serves 700-800 families each month — about 1,200 people.

Reynolds said the pantry board buys about 65 percent of the food served each month through grants and monetary donations, but the rest is often provided through group food drives.

Sowers bragged a little on her students — “There are only 10 kids in the Beta Club,” she said. “They did a lot in a short amount of time.”

In celebration of the The Arts Hancock County’s 20th Anniversary, the Arts has planned special events all year long. With the advent of the new Arts Center, classes and workshops are plentiful and special events vary from month to month.

JANUARY saw the Members Art Exhibit, followed by a special sale of Carter Church’s Mardi Gras costumes, then followed by Jerry Dixon’s Art Collection and Silent Auction Sale. This event raised $10,000 which was divided between the Arts and the Animal Shelter.

FEBRUARY highlighted the Black Arts Inaugural Exhibit with two and three dimensional works by black artists. Spencer Gray won first place, Demetrius Gayden won second place and Leo Green won third place. Honorable mentions went to Marian Glaser and Kimberly Goudy.

FEBRUARY also saw the Arts partner with St Rose de Lima Church with a special presentation by Auseklis Ozols, the artist who painted the mural “Christ in the Oaks.” This event united those in the community who remember and watched the mural being painted as well as those who have come to revere this outstanding work of art.

MARCH will be devoted to a Kathe Calhoun Retrospective. This show will run to the end of the month. A reception will be held prior to the March 8th members meeting. All are welcome.

APRIL means Arts Alive! 2023. This is the largest and most popular Arts event. This year it will be held on the Depot grounds, April 15 from 10:00 until 5:00. It’s free and open to the public.

Now is the time to sign up to be part of Arts Alive! as an artist or as a volunteer. Information can be found on the Arts website hancockarts.org or by calling Angelle at 228-342-4521.

Edmond Fahey Funeral Home works with local residents and the veterans services organizations to properly retire any U.S. flag that has reached the end of its service.

Our program is designed to honor our national heroes, our military veterans, and to give dignity to our American Flag when it is no longer worthy of display.

We strive to see that each veteran being cremated has a flag. There is no charge for this service to our veterans.

According to the United States code, Title 4, Chapter 1, Subsection 8: "The flag, when it is in such condition that it is no longer a fitting emblem for display, should be destroyed in a dignified way, preferably by burning."

If you would like to honor a deceased veteran by donating an aged or worn flag to be properly disposed of, you may do so by delivering the flags to our funeral home located on the corner of Necaise Avenue and Main Street.

Love your

It’s a new month, and with that always come the fresh, albeit naive, hope that it will be better than the previous.

March is a special month for me, for it is the month that my dad received a kidney transplant.

Throughout his journey with his health, it has encouraged me to become more conscious about my health. It has also encouraged me to tell others about kidney disease as much as possible.

You never really know when your own story might impact someone else’s life. I’m definitely not perfect when it comes to choosing foods, because sometimes that candy aisle just puts a spell on me.

My health journey is a work in progress and of course it would be really awesome if our healthcare system was more affordable and not reliant upon GoFund-Me accounts or bankruptcy.

The month of March is also recognized as National Kidney Month and it’s a great time to acquaint oneself with the kidneys and what they do.

According to the National Kidney Foundation, the kidneys “regulate fluid levels, activate Vitamin D for healthy bones, filter wastes from the blood, direct production of red blood cells, regulate blood pressure, and keep blood minerals in balance.”

Kidney disease can cause “cardiovascular disease, nerve damage, weak bones, heart attack, high blood pressure, stroke, kidney failure, and anemia/low red blood cell count.”

When my dad kidneys failed, he went on dialysis for three days a week for about four hours at a time.

The National Kidney Foundation defines dialysis as keeping your body in balance by “removing waste, salt, and extra water to prevent them building up in the body and keeping a safe level of certain chemicals in your blood, such as potassium, sodium, and bicarbonate.”

Even though I disliked many of my science courses in school, I am always in awe of the amazing breakthroughs that have been made in the medical field to help people live with illnesses that might have been a death sentence years ago.

It’s also important to know the risk factors for kidney disease and failure. Those are diabetes, family history, high blood pressure, and age 60 and older.

I have two of the four listed and I’m also incredibly overdue for a basic health checkup. I know, I know, I need to make it a priority.

Hancock History: U.S. Navy

The U S Navy has kept the world’s sea lanes open since World War II, fostering free trade and globalization. Indeed, a container ship from any country can sail from one port to any other country without needing a military escort. Hancock County is the home of the Naval Oceanographic Office (NAVOCEANO), which is a key tenant at the John C. Stennis Space Center. NAVOCEANO employs approximately one thousand civilian, military, and contract personnel who provide oceanographic products and services to all elements within the Department of Defense. This big installation has the nickname among the locals of “NAVO.” A brief history of this very important beehive of scientific activity will reveal the complexity of our Navy’s mission.

In 1976, NAVOCEANO relocated from Suitland, Maryland to the Stennis Space Center under the direction of Jerry Reshew (1928-2017). The Navy has historically surveyed, charted, and mapped the features and conditions of the world’s oceans that are constantly changing. In 1830, the US Navy established the Department of Charts and Instruments. In 1837, a US Exploring Expedition under the command of Lieutenant Charles Wilkes sailed all over the Atlantic, Pacific, and Antarctic Oceans studying and collecting scientific data, as well as generating charts of many different islands and coastlines. The excellent read, “Sea of Glory,” by Nathaniel Philbrick tells the fascinating story about this historic American voyage of discovery. The Depot of Charts and Instruments was a precursor of present-day NAVOCEANO or NAVO.

The Navy operates seven oceanographic ships that have no home port and are forward-deployed surveying the oceans 365 days a year. These ships conduct physical, chemical, and biological oceanographic operations. Scientists with the NASA and NAVO work along-side sixteen other federal agencies, the Computer Complex, and two university outlets. Scientists are using satellite data, airborne sensors, automated ocean buoys, and other scientific devices to study space, oceans, and earth-oriented projects. Senator John Stennis had the wisdom of this vision as early as 1970 to create here in Hancock County an extraordinary utopia of scientists working across all disciplines and federal agencies engaged in this mission. The US Navy has launched one hundred unmanned underwater vehicles (UUV’s) or “gliders” that collect environmental data. Once launched from a Navy vessel of opportunity.

LIBRARY

The year was 1935. America was beginning to crawl out of The Great Depression and New Deal programs like the WPA (Works Progress Administration) were starting to take hold across the country and into the deep south. Just one year earlier, Bay St. Louis resident, Miss Louise Crawford had accepted a request to lead an effort to establish a county-wide library system in Hancock County. In 1912, after relocating from her home in Nashville, Louise Crawford settled on the coast to go to work for the L&N Railroad. There, she developed the reputation as a woman who got things done. The first version of the county-wide library saw Hancock divided into five separate areas, within which 19 different “branch centers” were established. Thus, the Hancock County Free Library was born.

The first library in Bay St. Louis was located above the Hancock Bank in its building on Main Street. But by 1944, the bank needed more space forcing the library to move to the basement of the Knights of Columbus Hall. But basements and books do not live well together – especially in the sweltering humidity of the south. Plagued by rodents and mildew, a pledge of $20,000 helped launch a campaign to secure a permanent home for the BSL library. In 1953 a building at 123 Court Street was purchased that served as the local library until 1993 when groundbreaking occurred to build a new library on Ulman Street. That location expanded with an addition funded by federal Library Services and Construction Act and continues to serve as the local Bay St. Louis branch and home of the library’s administrative offices. Diamondhead, Kiln, Pearlinton and Waveland round out what’s now the Hancock County Library System (HCLS).

By 1995, the library had grown its patronage to a point where its needs outweighed its resources. So, a group of enterprising locals established a not-for-profit (501.c.3) tax exempt organization in order to seek and receive funds to support the local library system. The Library Foundation of Hancock County, Inc. that year created its Margin of Excellence initiative “to benefit, support and enhance programming, services and facilities” of the Hancock County Library System.

To this day, the Library Foundation continues to strive to build public and private initiatives and partnerships to provide opportunities that enrich lifelong learning throughout the community. The mission of The Library Foundation of Hancock County is to strengthen the HCLS’s value to the community, to fund special projects and endowments, and to inspire community interest and involvement.

The members of The Library Foundation of Hancock County are Dr. Sherry Ponder, president; Sally Isaacs, vice president; Basil Kennedy, treasurer; Cindy Knoblock, executive secretary; Kelli Billups,

In addition, a five-member Library Board of Trustees serves as the oversight and governing body of the Hancock County Library System. Trustees are appointed by the funding authorities of the HCLS. The library system receives public funds from Hancock County, the City of Bay St. Louis, the City of Diamondhead, and the City of Wave-land. Members include Cathy Pitolo, chairperson; Linda McKay, vice chairperson; Golden Fairconnetue, Paige Lundgren, and Casey Marquar. The Library Board of Trustees holds its public meeting at the HCLS administration office in the Bay St. Louis library at 3:00 PM on the third Tuesday of each month.

Among the more notable projects that are funded through the generous support of the Library Foundation includes the highly popular Holiday Tree Gala, which in December 2022 completed its 28th annual event expanding from one venue at the Bay St. Louis branch to include all five branch locations throughout Hancock County. The Holiday Tree Gala now realizes more than 10,000 people annually who in 2022 viewed more than 140 specially decorated trees featuring the theme, “A Storybook Holiday.”

The Library Foundation also recently embarked on a project that’s sure to become a crowd favorite. The HCLS is in the process of digitizing its entire collection of newspapers from the SEA COAST ECHO archives. The community will be able to read and research publications going back to 1892 through the present, accessing the information from their computers.
The Library Foundation of Hancock County also funds all or major portions of the annual summer library program for children and students; the FAN-FEST event which will be presented at the Bay St. Louis Community Hall on Sunday, April 23; and many of the programs and services available through the library system’s technology resources (mobile hot-spots, 3D printing, 24/7 WI-FI, printing, and scanning).

“We’re fortunate that the HCLS has such solid support of these fantastic individuals – both on our board and on our foundation – who represent all of our communities and are so dedicated to helping our library system carry-out the broad range of programming which serves residents of all ages.”

The symptoms of kidney disease include, “swelling in face, hands, abdomen, ankles, and feet; blood in urine, foamy urine; puffy eyes; difficult painful urination; increased thirst; and fatigue.”

Not only does this month remind me of my dad’s second chance at life, it should be a reminder to take some time and have those kidneys checked, along with whatever else might need to be checked.
Even though I talk about the kidneys a lot, there are many other organs that can be donated, either from a live donor, or someone who has passed away.

This month can also be a reminder to become an organ donor. It’s also important to inform family, friends, and others who might be faced with making tough decisions at the end of one’s life.
Our donor family gave us an incredible gift and I love reading stories about how much organ donation has enriched so many lives, even those dealing with immense grief.

You can learn more about organ donation at www.donatelife.net.

nity, the gliders are directed to predetermined locations by NAVO glider pilots based at the Stennis Space Center in Hancock County. The data collected from these gliders are important to a wide range of naval operations that include detection of submarines and hurricane prediction.
The US Navy is the only navy in the world that has this much “blue water” capacity to project power over every ocean on the planet and to every corner of the earth. The mission at NAVO reflects this power and influence. Nevertheless, the question currently bandied about the Pentagon and Congress today is “Can the US Navy stop the Chinese Navy from occupying Taiwan?” The Chinese Navy has more gunboats (340) than the USA (290). China has significant “brown water” power in the South China Sea, but does not possess “blue water” power across the Pacific Ocean. An amphibious invasion of Taiwan, if contested by the US Navy, would be costly to both the USA and China, with the outcome uncertain. However, a blockade of China would probably crash the Chinese economy, because they import most of their energy and food. Trade dominates China’s export-oriented economy comprising 52% of its Gross Regional Product (GRP). Such a naval war would probably be the end of the post-World War II American Order and would adversely affect every country in the world. The world economy would probably devolve into an Asian sphere of influence and a Western Hemisphere sphere of influence and mark the end of Globalization as we know it today.

Pondering the Concept of God (A Lenten path to growth) By REV. C. GERALD RICHARDSON, D. MIN

C. GERALD RICHARDSON, D. MIN.

Psalm 139 offers a powerful essay on the writer’s understanding of the role of a divine presence in the human experience. It should be read as a journey in spiritual awareness. The psalm contains many salient components. A particularly meaningful one begins at verse 7. The psalmist addresses a subject which theologians often refer to as omnipresence. In short, this is a ten-dollar word which is a way of expressing the conviction that there is never a time, place, or circumstance which is devoid of spiritual reality. It is certainly true that our lives are profoundly different now than at the time of the psalmist. Human understanding of the world around us is vastly different today than was the case at the time the psalms were written. It is also true that emotions and spiritual longing are remarkably similar. We still need to trust that we are part of something that is larger than ourselves. We may name it in diverse ways. We may address it by a variety of methods and practices. Many of us still call it God, but that is not really the point. What is important, and it is actually crucial, is that we discover means by which we can be in touch with our essential nature. Humans are spiritual creatures. It is this spirituality which opens us to love, longing, sadness, joy, and much more in our lives. It causes us to have questions, and it gives us the courage to ask them. It opens us to the possibility of trust and the capacity to offer grace and forgiveness when others disappoint us. It enables us to believe in the future and to have hope during the darkest times. That which is often identified as “God” is sometimes little more than a poor imitation of the vastness of spiritual truth. Scripture sometimes identifies God as love. While that surely does not say everything that can be expressed about divine reality, it is a very good start. It can be easy to assign to God events in our lives which are really the results of the natural realities in the world. It is also possible for us to conveniently ignore those moments in life when our spirituality breaks in and offers us beautiful blessings which make life full, rich, and worthwhile. A student once confided to theologian Marcus Borg that he really did not believe in God. Borg responded by inviting the student to describe the God that he did not believe in. When the student defined God as judging, punishing, even vindictive and hard to please, Borg replied that he did not believe in that God either. Neither do I. It is probably not possible to define the concept of God fully and accurately. The psalmist of long ago gave us a bit of a handle. It can be a good way to begin a personal journey to a place of meaning as we seek to find truth which can guide us. Lent is a good time for such a pursuit.

MEET SCARLETT!

This uniquely beautiful Shar Pei/American Staffordshire Terrier mix is quite the Southern belle, as her name indicates. This Southern lady will have even Rhett Butler tripping all over himself to be in her company. She has a very gentle approach when meeting new friends, and will sniff your hand before giving sweet kisses. Scarlett has obviously been to charm school, as she sits on command and takes treats ever so gently. Her coat is a soft fawn color, and her eyes are the color of translucent amber. Such a pretty girl! Scarlett is friendly with other dogs of a similar demeanor, and may likely need a slower introduction to more active, playful dogs. As Scarlett is easily startled and currently lacking confidence when in unfamiliar situations, we recommend that she join a family with children 12+ years old. This one of a kind, delightful lady, is even more gorgeous in person!

You may make the acquaintance of Miss Scarlett during our visiting hours Mon, Wed-Fri 10am-3:30pm and Tues 1:30pm-3:30pm, or you may call our front desk at 228-466-4516 to schedule an appointment. Please bring your dog(s) and children along for the visit to ensure compatibility.

Bay High and Lady Pirates FALL TO RAYMOND IN ELITE EIGHT

BY JOSEPH W. GEX, II
STAFF WRITER

The area high school basketball season came to a close last week in the Elite Eight held at Pearl River Community College. Both Pass Christian and Bay High lost games to Raymond High School in the Class 4A state quarter-finals.

The Pass Christian Lady Pirates (23-9) started slow against Raymond falling behind 9-0 by the end of the first period. Adrianna Crimm ended the drought with a bucket with 7:26 left in the first half to make the score 11-2 but the Lady Pirates were not able to dig out of the hole. The Lady Rangers extended their lead to 23-12 by halftime en route to a 48-27 victory.

Pass Christian head coach Greta Ainsworth commented, “We struggled to keep the ball in our hands, we struggled with turnovers, and we struggled putting the ball in the basket. It was difficult all the way around tonight. We have been in the hole all season long in terms of depth at certain positions. However, for these players to rise above that adversity and advance to the Elite Eight, I am extremely proud of them. This speaks volumes about their character and their work ethic. We graduate four tremendous players who have given their all to this program and we return a relatively strong core group of players.”

Kamiyah Pruitt led the Lady Pirates with 12 points followed by Daydria Cuevas with 6 points.

The Bay High Tigers (17-15) played this season for their third head coach in four years but saw tremendous strides taken this year. The Tigers drew a tough opponent in top-ranked Raymond in the Elite Eight. Bay High started slow against the Rangers falling behind 8-1 at the end of the first period. The Tigers started the game 1-for-9 at the line through the 6:00 mark of the second period but went 15-for-18 after that. Raymond held a 19-5 lead at intermission.

The second half saw a team that more resembled a Tiger basketball team but it was too little too late as the Rangers outscored Bay High 29-25 in the second half.

Bay High head coach Kelton Thompson stated, “I thought we were one-half of basketball away from a chance. We let their pressure bother us in the first half. It was very noticeable what we were doing and what we were not doing. We played tight from the start. Half of Raymond's points came off of rebounds that went off our hands. Things that we were good at all year long, we did not do. Defensively, we gave ourselves a chance. Having said all that, I am very proud of this group of players. They had to make many adjustments this year playing for their third head coach in their high school career. These adjustments were not easy. They have changed the direction of boys basketball here at Bay High.”

Jaden Clark led the Tigers with 16 points followed by Avan Wilson with 9 points.

Hancock took the field but game details were not available in contests against Pass Christian and Picayune. Tanner Ladner went 5-for-7 at the plate with a homerun, double, and 2 RBI.

Pass Christian beat Harrison Central 3-0 but game details were not available.

Saint Stanislaus beat Pascagoula 5-2 and D'Iberville 8-7 but fell to Resurrection 3-1. Details of the games were not available.

• SOFTBALL •

The Bay High Lady Tigers dropped a 9-8 game against Poplarville. The score was tied 8-8 in extra innings when Poplarville plated a runner for the win.

The Lady Tigers collected 12 hits in the game with Madison Weems, Devin Bourgeois, Aurora Harper, and Gracey Adkins all collecting multiple hits in the game. Adkins took the loss for Bay High allowing six hits and fanning four.

Bay High was down 8-1 in the sixth inning to East Central but scratched six runs in their final two at-bats to finish one run short of extra innings.

Maddie Favre, Emmalee Kirkpatrick, and Adkins all had multiple hits in the game for Bay High.

The Hancock Lady Hawks stumbled against Gautier 7-2 in their lone appearance over the break while Pass Christian fell to Harrison Central 11-2.

DWGAN Golfing News from January of 2023

BY SHIRLEY HALTERMAN

And a New Year has dawned on us! We are anxious to see what golfing adventures we will encounter this coming year.

Our year began with the usual First Tuesday Trophy Day played on the back nine of the Cardinal Course. While the weather did not look promising, 13 brave ladies turned out to play despite the weather. Following are the results of the day’s competition. Congrats to Judy Tauzin and Patti Blackwood for scoring the first! Chip-ins of 2023. Special thanks to all who were brave enough to come out to play. The Low Net competition results were as follows: Flight 1 winners - 1st Place = Toni Rossol, 2nd Place = Therese Mauterer, and 3rd Place = Tammy Lippon. In Flight 2 the winners were: 1st Place = Kathy Jones, 2nd Place = Pattie Blackwood, and 3rd Place = Nancy Sislow. Lowest Putts in Flight 1 showed a tie between Toni Rossol and Tammy Lapon. Nancy Sislow took 1st place in Flight 2. When it came to Closest-to-the-Pin, Tammy Lippon in the First Flight came closest with her second shot, Judy Brannan was closest in the Second Flight with her first shot. Good way to start the New Year gals!

On the Second Tuesday of the month, January 10th, the game was Odd Holes played on the Front Nine of the Pine. This time the weather was more cooperative and 29 of our members turned out to compete. During this game, only the scores on the odd numbered holes are tallied. Flight One Low Net Winners were: 1st Place - Therese Mauterer, 2nd Place - Ann Nutting, and 3rd Place Toni Rossol. Flight Two Winners included: 1st Place - Kim Knight, 2nd Place - Janice Murray and 3rd Place - Carroll Gothie. When it came to Flight Three, 1st Place went to Shirley Halterman, 2nd Place to Kathy Jones and 3rd Place to Judith Brannan. In Flight Four, Sue Hebert came in first, Sylvia Corban was second and Brigitte Becker took third place.

On the following Tuesday, the game was Whack & Hack. To explain, we will play as teams and each player keeps their own score. At the completion of the hole, you take the lowest net score (Whack) and add it to the highest net score (Hack) for the total team score for the hole. There is one exception, if a player birdies the hole, the team is allowed to combine the two lowest scores. 33 gals signed up, but due to iffy weather, only 23 players joined the group. As Mother Nature was kind, the sun came out; and we were able to complete the game. Playing the back nine of the Cardinal course, the First Place Team with a score of 72 was composed of Brigitte Becker, Carroll Gothie, Mary Craig Murray, and Toni Rossol. Second Place with a score of 77 went to the team of Judi Brannan, Jerry Ingraham, Therese Mauterer and Cheryl Saak. And in a score card play-off, Third Place with a score of 79 the team of Nancy Barker, Kathy Jones, Janice Murray and Judy Tauzin. In addition, during this round, Judy Tauzin scored a Chip-In on Hole #16 and Carroll Gothie had a Birdie on Hole #13. It was a fun and challenging game.

While Tuesday, January 24th, proved quite chilly, 24 fearless gals showed up to play a 2 Person Alternate Shot game on the front Nine of the Pine Course. The winning 1st Place Team with a score of 34 was comprised of Patty Blackwood and Toni Rossol. In 2nd Place (on a scorecard playoff) with a score of 37 was the team of Tracey Garriga and Kathy Jones. Gale Lammer and Therese Mauterer came in 3rd Place with a similar score. While the 4th place team of Sharon Gerchow and Georgeann Luxion had a score of 38.

On our final Tuesday of the month, the morning proved to be very foggy and the course was quite wet. Twenty-two players ventured out to play a Scramble on the Back of the Cardinal Course. The First Place winning team with a Low Gross score of 35 included Brigitte Becker, Therese Mauterer and Nancy Sislow. The Second Place Team with a score of 40 included Nancy Barker, Kim Knight, Gale Lammer, and Janice Murray. Not to be left out, the Third Place Team of Judi Brannan, Susie Fontenot, Dinah Knobloch and Lenna Weisenhorn posted a score of 41.

The Hancock Chamber recently held their first ribbon cutting of 2023 at the Gardenia Tea Room by Almost Home on January 12th. Co-owner Michelle Nichols, who operated the incredibly successful Almost Home Catering for 15 years prior to this new venture, decided to follow her dream of opening a high tea venue and brought in her daughter, Sidney, as a collaborator. Sidney operates her floral shop, Midnight Bloom House, out of the Gardenia Tea Room. “Lovely” is the word that first comes to mind in describing the Gardenia Tea Room. It is filled with antique furniture, an eclectic mix of china patterns, fresh flowers and of course, Michelle’s delicious recipes and perfectly paired tea selections. Tea service lasts for approximately 2 hours, includes a generous sampling of sweet and savory items, your choice of over 20 teas, and a relaxing afternoon where the Tea Room Team creates an afternoon of enchantment and relaxation. The Gardenia Tea Room is located in the Colson Building at 314 Highway 90 Suite 104 in Waveland. Seatings occur at 1 p.m. and 3 p.m. Thursday - Sunday. Reservations are required a minimum of 24 hours in advance by calling or texting 228-332-2334 or by sending a message on The Gardenia Tea Room’s Facebook page.
